AN ACCIDENT

I have a little brother, his name is Bobby. One day, Bobby crawled and touched the electric socket. He was shocked by electricity and cried out loudly. Aunt Mega rushed so as to see what had happened. She found the baby lying helplessly on the floor. Then, she called at the nearby hospital. An ambulance was sent to come and pick him up. The doctors treated him. He is now getting better. They advised our parents to repair all the broken electric wires in the house and also to teach us the dangers of playing with any electric gadget without having an adult around us. Our parents promised to do so.
